

SPLICE FAILURE

TESTING SERVICES

The Almex Lab is equipped with everything necessary to test and diagnose the cause for a splice failure. Our testing staff are experienced splice experts who can provide the tests and final report to explain the cause of the failure to prevent costly re-occurrence.

FEATURES:

- Send your failed splice to us for an objective, unbiased, assessment
- Our experts can determine the root cause which can help to prevent additional splice problems .

Each splice failure test results in a comprehensive report being provided to the customer.
